Help With...

The British NEWSPAPER
Archive

This guide will show you how to access the British Newspaper Archive: digitised copies of national and regional newspapers from the collections of the British Library.

Titles cover the whole of Britain, with some dating back to the 1700s. The archive is available in all West Sussex libraries.

All articles are free to access whilst using a library computer; however, you will need to create an individual account to do so.

1. Go to www.westsussex.gov.uk/einformation and click on A-Z of electronic resources.

B

- BBC Webwise - Improve your digital skills.
- Bookdata - Database of book titles in print, forthcoming and recently out of print in the UK and Ireland.
- British Newspaper Archive - Regional historical newspapers from the British Library collection. You will first need to register with the British Newspaper Archive. When you next log in, you will be able to access the archive and a personal 'My Research' area.

3. If you already have an account, sign in as usual. Otherwise click on Register, enter some basic details and click on Get Started to create your account.

4. You can carry out a basic search from the home page by entering keywords and clicking on the search button.

Search Tips

- Use quotation marks around words to search for an exact phrase e.g. "Sylvia Pankhurst" or "Chichester Cathedral".
- Names can also appear in different ways so try "Miss Pankhurst", "Miss S Pankhurst" or "S Pankhurst".
- The Advanced Search allows you to limit the search in various ways, such as by date, newspaper title or location (country, region, county or place).

5. From the results page you can use the Refine Search filters on the left to narrow your search in a similar way to Advanced Search. The results are listed in order of relevance but you can change this to date order with either the oldest or most recent articles first.

6. Click on a title to view the original page. Keywords will be highlighted to help you find the relevant article.

You can then print or download a copy of the page.
