

Help with the British Newspaper Archive

This guide will show you how to access the British Newspaper Archive: digitised copies of national and regional newspapers from the collections of the British Library. Titles cover the whole of Britain, with some dating back to the eighteenth century. The archive is available in all West Sussex Libraries. All articles are free to access whilst using a library computer; however you will need to create an individual account to do so.

Search Tips

Use quotation marks around words to search for an exact phrase e.g. "Sylvia Pankhurst" or "Chichester Cathedral".

Names can also appear in different ways so try "Miss Pankhurst", "Miss S Pankhurst" or "S Pankhurst".

The Advanced Search allows you to limit the search in various ways, such as by date, newspaper title or location (country, region, county or place).

From the results page you can use the Refine Search filters on the left to narrow your search in a similar way to Advanced Search. The results are listed in order of relevance but you can change this to date order with either the oldest or most recent articles first.
